Teen drivers are nearly twice as likely to be involved in fatal crashes compared to older drivers. Inexperience, distractions, peer pressure, and a tendency to underestimate danger make this group particularly vulnerable on the road, posing risks not only to themselves but to everyone.

The Alive at 25[®] program addresses these critical issues head-on by empowering young drivers, aged 16 to 24, to make safe, respectful, and legal driving decisions. This highly interactive course focuses on increasing awareness of roadway risks, understanding factors inside and outside a driver's control, and making choices that lead to safer outcomes.

This 4-hour course is an excellent fit for high school students, young adults in college, or individuals referred by traffic courts following traffic violations. By targeting the unique challenges faced by young drivers, this program helps reduce accidents, save lives, and create safer roads for everyone.
